VICHY CABINET IS REARRANGED

General Weygand Sent to Africa to Take Charge Of French Colonies

VICHY, France, Sept. 6 (AP).—Chief of State Pétain appointed a new cabinet for unoccupied France tonight and sent General Maxime Weygand, former commander-in-chief of the Allied armies, to Africa to take charge of the situation arising from separation of some of France's colonies from the homeland.

Pierre Laval, who remained as Vice-Premier and right-hand man to Pétain, announced after the new cabinet was proclaimed that the shake-up was ordered to "strengthen governmental action."

The new thirteen-member cabinet replaces that of fifteen members—twelve ministers and three secretaries of state.

SEPARATE MINISTRIES
The Ministry of National Defence is replaced by separate War, Navy and Air Ministries. These appointments were referred to in the announcement as secretaries of state, but whether this means a permanent change in their titles was not made clear.

Pétain, retaining the Premiership, will preside at meetings restricted to the inner cabinet of eight, composed of Laval, Paul Baudouin, Foreign Minister; Raphaël Aigrain, Justice; René Belin, Labor; Yves Bouthillier, Finance; Admiral Jean Darlan, Navy; General Charles Huntziger, War; and Marcel Peyronnet, Interior.

All except Huntziger and Peyronnet were in the former cabinet. This inner group, known as the Council of Ministers, will draft and enact principal Government reforms, Laval explained.

Alaskan Road Proposal Will Be Considered

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Construction of the long-talked-of United States military highway through Canada to Alaska will "undoubtedly be considered" as part of the broad plans being studied by the Canada-United States Joint Defence Board, Captain L. W. Murray, senior officer on the Canadian section of the board, said today.

Captain Murray, deputy chief of the Canadian Naval Staff, will leave shortly for Washington where meetings of the Joint Defence Board will be resumed on Monday.

MAY FIND SITE AT GALAPAGOS

Costa Rica and Ecuador Co-operating With U.S. in Defence Plans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP).—United States defence officials, it was disclosed authoritatively today, have decided that Costa Rica's Cocos Island and France's Clipperton Island in the South Pacific are unsuitable as possible naval bases but that the Galapagos Group, beyond the Panama Canal, might warrant consideration.

The decision was made known after President Roosevelt told his press conference that while Costa Rica and Ecuador were co-operating on hemisphere defence, the United States was not negotiating with any country anywhere for additional basing rights.

Mr. Roosevelt left the impression, however, that some consideration was being given to bolstering Pacific defences of the Panama Canal, even though no negotiations are under way.

He said that discussions with Canada on defence plans were getting along "all right." The Joint American-Canadian Defence Board, which already has met in Ottawa, will resume discussions here on Monday and Tuesday.

NEW TEACHERS JUST LOOK ON

Five Regular Langley Prairie Instructors Refuse to Vacate Posts

LANGLEY PRAIRIE, Sept. 6 (CP).—Five Langley school teachers—four women and a man—today refused to leave their school to make way for new teachers following orders of the Board of School Trustees to place them in other schools.

When school opened last Tuesday, the "transferred" teachers appeared along with the new teachers. The regular teachers conducted the classes while the new teachers looked on.

LONDON, Sept. 6 (By Cable).—The Italian fleet has again turned tail and refused to battle in the Mediterranean, where Italian islands and bases have been bombed both from the air and sea. Britain has just doubled her sea forces in the Eastern Mediterranean, reinforced her troops in the Near East, and added to her strength in the Western Mediterranean. All this will be of great importance when the major campaign is launched in this area.

The Germans continue to lose air planes in proportion of three to one, and airmen in proportion of six to one. Their losses in bombers and fighters in raids on the United Kingdom's coasts and shipping now number 1,650.

Mysterious fires continue to break out in Belgium in factories and harvest fields. As the Nazis suspect sabotage, they have arrested and mobilized Belgian soldiers and imprisoned them, in reprisal, in the forests of Liege. British air victories have greatly stimulated Belgian resistance to their conquerors.

In Norway the Germans have suspended and arrested editors because they have printed disrespectful remarks about the traitor Quisling, who is now making unsuccessful attempts to form a cabinet.

Thirty-six French airplanes from Morocco have arrived at Gibraltar and the pilots say the French air force there talks of mutiny against the men of Vichy, and of joining General De Gaulle.

Admiral Muselier, head of the free French naval forces in Britain, has warned Hitler that he holds Nazi prisoners of war as hostages for the lives of his French sailors and airmen who are regular forces fighting in uniform.

"The French Empire is rallying to us colony by colony," says the admiral, "and in a short time the Cross of the Legion of Honour (the sign) will join the old Gallic cock on the towers of the cathedrals of our beautiful France."

BANKS REJECT LOAN PROPOSAL

Government Still Seeking Way to Meet Needs of Wheat Growers

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—The acute problem of devising means of meeting financial needs of farmers, who must store wheat on farms until elevator space becomes available, occupied the wheat committee of the cabinet tonight, with no indication when a solution may be reached.

Conferees on the question, involving the cabinet committee representatives of Western Canada, grain interests and growers, banks and the Canadian Wheat Board, have been in progress all this week.

Latest news from the series of meetings was that representatives of chartered banks had rejected a proposal that banks make loans to Prairie farmers, the banks' security being wheat stored on farms and a Federal Government guarantee of 15 per cent of the total loans.

OFFER SUGGESTION

This information was gained on good authority and at the same time it was said that bankers, along with the cabinet committee, yesterday, suggested that the Wheat Board advance farmers a portion of the seventy cents a bushel guaranteed for No. 1 Northern wheat.

Under the bankers' suggestion, the Wheat Board would pay farmers the balance of the guaranteed price as soon as farmers delivered wheat to elevators when space becomes available.

BRITISH BOMBERS CARRY OUT SPECTACULAR RAID ON BERLIN

Attackers Over German Capital for Three Hours—Several Fires Started in Centre of City—Barrage Balloon Used for First Time—Damage to Buildings Is Admitted

Oil Stores on Danube and Factories in Turin Bombed

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (AP).—Strings of British bombers raided Berlin and vicinity early today for nearly three hours, starting several fires. The raiders crossed into Germany in waves, it was stated, and the raid on the capital became the most spectacular of the war.

The attack was characterized by low-flying planes and the thundering of bursting bombs, augmented by heavy fire from anti-aircraft defences.

The attack on Berlin was centred on the north side. Shell fragments from anti-aircraft fire which met the Royal Air Force bombers pattered Berlin roofs in all sections.

RAISE SURPRISE DEFENCE

The Nazis said pursuit planes rose to fight off the raiders. Also, it was claimed for the first time that the invading planes were confused and obliged to go to a great height and make long detours because barrage balloons were raised in a surprise defence.

Nazi spokesmen claimed the invading planes crossed the Netherlands border in a succession of waves. Some went into the Ruhr and some continued eastward to Berlin.

They dropped numerous flares over Berlin, Spandau and Potsdam. Defence fire drove some planes back from the vicinity of Potsdam, it was claimed.

FIRES SEEN IN CITY LIMITS

From the centre of the capital several fires were noted, apparently within city limits. Nazi spokesmen admitted that buildings had been damaged in two districts of Berlin, but did not specify what type of building.

While most of the bombs were said to have fallen in the northern suburb of Wedding, a later report revealed that a warehouse near the diplomatic quarter and a police station were hit.

TO CZECHO-SLOVAKIAN BORDER

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP).—Britain's bombers flew across Germany to the borders of Czechoslovakia in search of new enemy targets on Thursday night and Friday morning, the Air Ministry announced tonight, and blasted oil and benzene tanks at Regensburg, on the Danube.

JAPANESE FINED ON FOUR COUNTS

Logging Company Pleads Guilty to Infractions of Provincial Labor Laws

COURTENAY, Sept. 6 (CP).—The Japanese-operated Deep Bay Logging Co. Ltd., was fined $375 today for infractions of British Columbia labor regulations.

The company, which operates at Fanny Bay, near here on the Vancouver Island east coast, pleaded guilty to all charges and paid the fines.

Special charges and fines were: Failure to keep a true and correct record of hours worked by employees in the English language $250; two charges of working employees long hours $25 each; failure to pay wages semi-monthly, $50; failure to pay the minimum wage $25.

Evidence produced in court to Magistrate T. D. Layland, of Cumberland, showed employees had worked as much as 100 hours in excess of the maximum hours allowed during a normal month.

The charges were laid by A. M. Whisker, provincial logging inspector under the Department of Labor.

PREVENT RESCUE OF OWN AIRMEN

German Planes Rain Bullets at Boats Seeking to Save Nazi Flyers

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP).—The Admiralty said Friday night that "German airmen have again prevented the rescue of their comrades from the sea by British naval units."

An Admiralty communiqué said: "This morning three of His Majesty's destroyers attempted to rescue four German airmen who had bailed out over the sea from a German bomber. The rescue was prevented by other German aircraft which attacked the destroyers with machine gun fire."

"There were no casualties in the destroyers."

"Also, this morning one of our motor torpedo boats was attacked and machine-gunned by German aircraft, while proceeding to the rescue of crews of German aircraft shot down in the English Channel. Four of the crew of the torpedo boat were slightly wounded and the attempt at rescuing the German airmen was abandoned."

Property Damage Amazingly Light After Big Raids

Newspapermen Find Little Disruption to British War Effort in Survey of Many Areas Heavily Bombed—Great Britain Tending to Business as Usual Is General Report

By HUGH WAGNON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A nation-wide survey by The Associated Press, completed today, shows Britain is tending to "business as usual" despite the damage and death inflicted by German air raiders.

From the white cliffs of Dover to the industrial Midlands and the great harbors of Hull and Liverpool, Portsmouth and Southampton, Bristol and Plymouth, our staff were permitted to go freely to see for themselves the extent of damage—and the lack of it.

Dover, focal point of attack by air and artillery across the Channel, is surprisingly free of extensive destruction, the inhabitants are repairing homes and even building new ones in the face of Nazi air squadrons which daily roar overhead.

AT PORTSMOUTH BASE
At the great naval base of Portsmouth, raiders once succeeded in dropping a bomb in the courtyard of the barracks, but little damage was done and no one was hurt. Most of the fatalities there have been among civilians.

At Southampton, police gave me carte blanche not only to go where I pleased, but also to photograph what I pleased. One bomb had set fire to a cold storage warehouse and a few houses had been wrecked here, but the streets were filled with shoppers. The shops and great fruit and meat storehouses were amply supplied.

Plymouth and Bristol, although frequently attacked, showed little evidence of bombings.

NEGLIGIBLE DAMAGE
Around the Greater London area, the heaviest toll has been taken in the matter of sleep. High explosive and incendiary bombs have caused negligible damage—and that chiefly to residential property.

Liverpool, still one of Britain's busiest ports, has been the target of numerous fire bombs, some of which started small fires on the docks, but these soon were extinguished.

A survey of the towns and countryside gives the impression damage is of infinitesimal proportions.

PORT OF LIVERPOOL
By TAYLOR HENRY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6.—Port of Liverpool, which handles an important proportion of all this island's wartime shipping, has been only slightly affected by repeated Nazi air raids.

Liverpool and the surrounding industrial region with some 4,000,000 inhabitants appear to have become the No. 1 air target of England.

"Hell's corner" has shifted from Southeast England to the Northwest, but in a two-day stay in this area I have seen comparatively little damage. Industrial production has been slowed down, because most factories stop work during an alarm.

As I write, the throb of German motors can be heard overhead. I have just returned from a trip through the dock area by the elevated railway that runs from the Water Street Station to Seaforth Sands.

OIL TANKS INTACT
On a special pass, I have also wandered at random through the properties administered by the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board. The only portion for which I did not have a pass was the oil installations, but from what I could see from outside there appeared to have been no damage and work was proceeding normally.

The windows of some buildings have been shattered. I saw evidence of one hit on a dock which had slightly damaged a grain elevator. The only visible damage to shipping itself was the sinking of one small trawler by a bomb.

The net effect on movement of cargo appears to have been negligible.

FUNCTIONING NORMALLY
The port was functioning nor-

Ing debris from houses or sweeping broken glass and mortar from store windows.

NOT DEEPLY SHAKEN
People did not seem much shaken at losing their homes and businesses, although in one of the poorer districts an old man who took me through the remains of his house admitted he did not know what he would do now.

I have lived here for twenty-nine years and never so much as had a fire," he said. "Now it's all gone. I don't know where I'll go or what I'll do."

His two-story house was one of half a dozen smashed open from the back when a heavy calibre bomb fell. The first floor was a mass of broken plaster, furniture and the frames of doors and windows.

Creaky wooden stairs were still standing and I climbed to the top floor where bedding hung from the splintered ceiling and a mirror was smashed over a wrecked rocking chair.

The old man and his wife were in a shelter when the bomb fell and had no indication their home was ruined until after the all-clear sounded.

SHOP WINDOWS BROKEN
A few blocks away, on a busy street, a bomb fell at the rear of a large carpet store. This store was closed for business for today, but others nearby were carrying on despite the lack of plate glass windows.

"Little Don't Stop Us," said a sign outside one store. "Bombed But Upbeat," said another.

In the next district I saw that a bomb had scored a direct hit on a large underground shelter in the middle of a square. There were 1,000 to 1,500 people inside the shelter at the time but only casualties were two people sitting on top, smoking.

These were the only deaths reported in the whole of the toured area.

We went from there to the district where the railway line had been hit. About ten bombs were dropped in that section during the night but there was not much damage. One had crashed through part of a platform roof and had dug up a section of the track.

Trains on rails twenty feet away were running as usual and a foreman said service would be resumed tomorrow.

FLATTENED LIKE PANCAKE
In a residential suburb a couple of miles away five bombs fell, one scoring a direct hit on a little stuccoed cottage which was flattened like a pancake. The owners were away at the time.

From there we went to a factory district where three or four bombs had dropped not far from a large gas tank. Gas and water mains were broken in this district and one woman whose home was less than fifty feet from where the bomb fell complained that she was unable to cook dinner.

A block away, the whole front of a store had been broken open by the explosion of a bomb across the street. The owner was doing a bumper business despite it. All. Two aged women in this district, taken to hospital for shock, were the only casualties.

Throughout all sections the absence of damage, rather than the damage, was most impressive. There were thousands of broken windows and scores of cracked roofs but, as one bobby put it, "Lots of them should have been condemned anyway."

People forced from their homes are making the best of their bad luck. Temporary quarters for them all have been arranged but many preferred to clear out the debris and stay where they were. Some of these parked their babies in cribs along side streets while they went to work with brooms and shovels.

"We were told to expect this and can take it," the Hitler gave us," said a portly matron who had been hit as hard as any. "All I hope is that he is getting worse than he's giving us and I'm sure he is."

SPECTACULAR RAID MADE ON BERLIN

bombing by machine gun attacks from a low level.

The Air Ministry said that a large incendiary raid on Hamburg was also attacked during the night and five big fires, started by raiders, were still blazing strongly when the aircraft left.

In the Black Forest large numbers of incendiary bombs were dropped over a dense strip thirty miles wide, running parallel with the Rhine.

Pierce flares were seen by the raiding crews, showing that the fires were gaining a firm hold. One observer reported seeing a mass of yellow flames followed by a series of great red fires visible for many miles away.

BUILDINGS IN FLAMES
The pilot of one plane raiding the Harz Forest said that near the centre he located "rows and rows of long buildings." They looked like barracks. Incendiary bombs were dropped on the buildings, starting a fire. Then more were dropped among the surrounding pine woods.

We could plainly see the flashes of the explosions coming from the burning buildings.

The Air Ministry, in its bulletin, described the forest raids as "the principal targets" attacked by the R.A.F. on Thursday night. In addition to the oil installations.

The bombers again attacked Ploetz, near Stettin, where oil tanks and refineries were blasted and "left burning fiercely."

FIRES STARTED AT TURIN
The Air Ministry said that heavy damage was done to the Fiat building at Turin. One salvo struck a car-testing track at the main building. At least a dozen fires broke out.

The nearby Fiat aircraft factory also was attacked and the Ministry said that "only the walls of one building appeared to be left standing."

The objectives on the French coast were attacked jointly by aircraft of the Bomber Command, the Coastal Command and the Fleet Air Arm.

Three British aircraft failed to return.

Board Has Rescinded Order Fixing Prices Of Bread and Flour

Warns No Justification Existing for Higher Cost Than Before Imposition of Wheat-Processing Tax—Mills Cannot Bear the Levy

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board tonight rescinded its order of August 6 fixing bread and flour prices. At the same time, it warned that there was "no justification" for higher bread prices than those prevailing before the new 15-cent-a-bushel wheat-processing tax was applied in July. Because of the drop in wheat prices, bakers now paid more for flour plus tax than they paid for flour alone early in May, the board noted. This means, in effect, the tax will be borne by the bakers.

The price-fixing order was laid down when attempts were made to pass the new tax on to the consumer by raising the price of bread 1 cent, although the tax amounted to a small fraction of 1 cent a loaf. The order stipulated that millers and bakers should each bear half the tax.

HARD ON MILLERS
An audit by the board since August 6 of representative milling companies' costs over the last five years has persuaded the board that the millers cannot bear any appreciable part of the tax.

The lifting of the price-fixing order should not be interpreted as meaning the board will take no action if bread prices now rise, a board official emphasized.

In its dealing with bread and flour prices in this instance, the board has been concerned with the effect of the processing tax, it was stressed, and that phase has been closed with the findings announced tonight.

If bread prices now do rise, after the board's announced opinion, that there is no present reason for them rising because of the tax, the board may proceed under its own regulations regarding profiteering, it was explained.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT
Official statement of the board's decision was in part as follows:

In ordering on August 6 that the prices of bread and wheat flour in Canada must revert to those prevailing on July 23 and that millers must, in respect of flour taken after the date of the order, add to their invoices not more than half the levy of 70 cents per barrel, the board emphasized that its ruling was in the nature of a standstill order in the interest of consumers generally, to provide an opportunity to examine the implications of the new legislation and permit an adequate investigation to be made.

An interim report by the auditors indicates that the average profits resulting from the milling of flour for domestic consumption are considerably less in the case of the mills selected for investigation than the amount of the levy imposed by the order; and since the mills subject to audit are among the most efficient bakers in the industry, it is a reasonable assumption that most of the hundreds of smaller mills throughout the country are even less able than their larger competitors to bear the levy at present being assessed against their product.

IMMEDIATE PROTEST
No sooner was the board's order of August 6 promulgated than both millers and bakers protested that they could not possibly absorb the tax. Their representations were promised full consideration, but the various delegations were told that, pending an investigation, the board's requirements must, in fairness to the consuming public, be complied with in every particular.

While the audit was in progress, the board took up with the Canadian Wheat Board the plea of the bakers that their industry was receiving particularly unjust treatment by virtue of the proviso to the recent legislation which stipulated that in respect of flour delivered pursuant to contracts in force July 23, the full amount of the levy must be paid by the purchaser, i.e., the baker, dealer or consumer.

As a result of this joint consideration, an order in council was passed August 24 remitting the levy on all flour delivered pursuant to contracts in force prior to May 15, 1940. The effect of this remission was to remove altogether the levy on flour made from the relatively high-priced wheat of last spring and thus to put buyers taking deliveries of such flour on the same cost basis as competitors buying flour milled from wheat subject to the lower "pegged" price.

V.A.D.C. Graduates Are Entertained

WOULD FACE LOSS
Meanwhile, the audit of the milling concerns was proceeding and today's announcement is based upon its results, which shows, to the satisfaction of the board, that continued payment by millers of any appreciable part of the levy on flour would mean that most of the mills in Canada would face an actual operating loss, and that very few, if any, would make any profit on their flour milling activities.

Reference has been made above to the recent remission of the levy in respect of flour purchased pursuant to contracts entered into prior to May 15, 1940. The full significance of this is not appreciated unless it is understood that, prior to the order in council of August 24, bakers or dealers taking delivery of flour under old contract not only had paid more for their flour (milled as it was from 85-cent wheat), but were obliged to pay, in addition, the full tax of 70 cents per barrel, whereas purchasers not under old contracts were able to buy flour milled from 68-cent wheat and pay in addition only 35 cents per barrel as tax.

AN ILLUSTRATION
To illustrate: Flour (second patent) contracted for in Toronto May 10, when No. 2 Northern wheat at Port William stood at 88 cents, cost the buyer $3.40 per barrel of 196 pounds, and when taken delivery of on, say, August 7, bore 70 cents tax, or a total cost to the purchaser of $6.10 per barrel; whereas spot purchases of flour on August 7 were at $4.50, plus 35 cents tax, or a total cost to the purchaser of $4.85 per barrel.

As from today, current purchases of flour will cost, including the full tax of 70 cents, a total of $5.50 per barrel, which is no more than bakers paid for the same grade of flour during roughly the first four months of the year. In other words, in so far as the levy on flour resulting from the processing tax on wheat is concerned, bakers and other users of flour are under no higher costs for their basic raw material than prevailed last spring. It would follow, therefore, that in so far as the processing tax is concerned, there is no justification for higher prices for bread than have prevailed heretofore this year.

PREMIER WELCOMES AIR DRIVE BARREL
NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 6.—(CP)—New Westminster's air supremacy drive barrel, a little scarred from more than three days of tossing in the Fraser River, arrived at the Pattullo Bridge yesterday, completing its 161-mile journey from Lytton in exactly 70 hours 36 minutes 42.3 seconds.

Premier E. D. Pattullo gave the steel keg an official welcome. Its arrival will mean payment of a $500 prize to the holder of the gun's ticket nearest the time the barrel took to make the river journey.

JUST IN CASE
Goering called together his staff of generals and said to them: "We're going to win the war and win it fast. Right?"

Every one of the generals shouted back: "Yes, we're going to win the war and win it fast, except one small general in the rear."

Goering noticed this, and questioned that general.

"Don't you believe we're going to win the war fast?" asked Goering.

The small general answered: "Yes, I think we might win the war, but I think it would be a good idea if you put Czechoslovakia in your wife's name."

TOURIST TRADE OFFICIALS MEET
Recommend Sending of Victoria Flowers to Other Canadian Points

At a meeting of the tourist trade executive at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, the members were advised that, as a precautionary war measure, the road leading to the Astrophysical Observatory, on Little Saanich Mountain, would be closed for the duration of the war.

Letters were received from Hon. W. J. Assestine and Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir thanking the executive for an invitation to participate in the opening ceremonies of the Indian park at the corner of Belleville and Douglas Streets, when completed.

Harold Digges advised members that work on the Topiary Gardens would be continued for the next month or so at least.

The meeting approved the action of the executive of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team in obtaining a booth at the Willows Fair for the purpose of raising additional funds for the team.

WOULD CURB NOISE
W. Clark said that action was being taken by hotel owners, and any others caring to participate, to have the city do something with regard to unnecessary noise on city streets at night.

G. I. Warren, publicity commissioner for Victoria and Vancouver Island, suggested that citizens of Victoria and district send flowers and local produce to their friends elsewhere in Canada as a means of advertising the nature of the country and climate to potential residents and visitors.

SAWMILL DESTROYED AT PRINCE GEORGE
PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., Sept. 6 (CP).—Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed the sawmill of the Red Mountain Lumber Company Ltd., on the banks of the Fraser River at Penny, B.C., seventy-six miles east of here. The men protested against the camp food and called for increased wages.

AN IDEA
"Eric" said the school teacher severely, "you shouldn't talk like that to the other little boy. Haven't you ever thought about heaping coals of fire on his head?"

"No, miss, I haven't. But it's a jolly good idea."

WILL OBSERVE DAY OF PRAYER

Victoria Boy Scouts to Take Part in Church Parade Tomorrow

Major J. Wise, district commissioner of the Victoria district Boy Scouts Association at the scouters' council, held on Thursday night at Scout headquarters, called attention to His Majesty's request for a day of prayer tomorrow and asked that all Scouts and Cubs of Victoria, who have not already arranged for their own church parade, attend the church parade to be held at Christ Church Cathedral tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Civilian Protection Committee. Scouts and Cubs are asked to be at the Y.W.C.A. at 2:30 o'clock.

The commissioner also gave a brief resume of activities of Scouts and Cubs during the Summer months. They included the sending of forty Scouts to assist at the Red Cross garden party held at Government House, supplying 175 Scouts and Cubs to guard the Silver Trail, sponsored by the Victoria Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services, acting as messengers for National Recreation booths in the Saanich municipality, as well as posting notices of registration all over the municipalities of Esquimalt and Oak Bay, and the collection of empty medicine bottles after an appeal by the R.C.A.M.C.

TRAINING CAMP
A report of the week's activities of Gilwell Training Camp at Crofton was given by Freeman King, deputy camp chief for Vancouver Island. Mr. King stated that thirty Scouts and six instructors attended the camp, which was primarily to train troop and patrol leaders to take charge in the absence of their scoutmasters who may be called up for active service. To date, Mr. King said, seventy scouts had joined up for military service.

It was announced that, owing to the shortage of leaders, due to the war, camping was not on the usual scale, but approximately 250 Scouts from twelve troops attended camps for periods of ten days to a fortnight.

An indoor training course will be started and it is hoped that all scouts and at least one representative from each group committee would attend. Training will commence immediately after the business of the next scouters' council.

Mrs. S. W. Brock, A.D.C., announced that cubmasters will also have a week's indoor course for Cub training.

All scouts and presidents of group committees are requested to note that the next scouts' meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 1, and the first Tuesday in the month thereafter.

"German propaganda is nullified by its lack of facts," says a critic. There's a shortage of raw material.

STEAM INTO BRITISH PORT

QUIET RECEPTION

The port received the United States reinforcements quietly. No sirens screamed or whistles blew from the vessels in the stream or at the dock. The complement on the American flotilla itself was equally subdued. The only sign of activity was the blinking of signal lights and the hoisting of signal flags between the ships.

With the destroyers to be turned over to the Royal Navy came a newly-commissioned flotilla leader of the United States navy, acting as an escort ship. Aboard her was Admiral F. L. Reichmuth, in charge of the movement.

The transferred destroyers remained at anchor in the stream. They stood out from all shipping in the port, their four slim, vertical funnels distinguishing them easily from the modern war craft of the British and Canadian navies with their broader, sloping smokestacks.

Despite the destroyers' age, generally around twenty years, all appeared fit for immediate action. British authorities have stated they would be effective for convoy duties or coastal defence work, releasing more powerful Royal Navy units for sterner work elsewhere.

FINAL CONCERT HELD IN PARK

Civic "Cheer Up" Events at Beacon Hill Conclude For Season

An estimated 4,000 persons gathered around the bandstand in Beacon Hill Park last night for the last of a series of civic "cheer-up" concerts and old-time dances.

During the evening's entertainment, Alderman W. H. Davies announced that a special concert would be held on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Sports Centre at the Wilcox, when a programme similar to the open-air concerts would take place. He also mentioned that plans were under way to provide quarters for winter concerts.

The music for dancing was provided by Mabel Irvine's old-time orchestra.

SOLO OFFERINGS

Several solos were rendered during the evening, including "God Bless America," by Maxine High, sung for the benefit of the large number of American visitors; "Wish Me Luck," sung by Florence Peck, and others by Arthur Jackson and Mrs. F. Thomas.

The registration of visitors reached almost the 1,000 mark, with tourists here from India, Australia, Singapore, the British Isles, Buenos Aires, United States, and many Canadian points.

Impromptu singing contests between members of the forces were staged, with as many as twenty on the stand before the microphone at one time. The naval ratings from Victoria issued a challenge to the other forces for a contest on Monday night.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Dorothy Brooks, whose marriage to Mr. Lester Small will take place this month, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held recently by Misses Carol Boyer and Nancy Boyd. The event took the form of a surprise at the home of the bride-to-be and much merriment was caused by a mock shower, when she was presented with a large and imposing corsage composed of dahlias, petunias and fern, and received many amusing gifts presented to her in an old sack. Light refreshments were served, and then Miss Brooks was taken on a spurious ride which ended at the home of Miss Boyd, where the other guests had repaired to receive her. On her arrival the guest of honor was given a beautiful corsage of pink roses and white stocks, and Mrs. Brooks wore a pink carnation. The many useful gifts were arranged around a container beautifully decorated in pastel shades of pink and blue. Buffet supper was served from a lace-covered table artistically decorated with flowers in shades of pink and white in a blue bowl. The invited guests were Mesdames C. Brooks, H. Small, W. Ashton, J. NAZI BOMBERS HIT HEAVILY AT LONDON raiders were believed to have dropped the incendiary bomb clusters known as "Molotov bread-baskets."

The overnight raiders roared over the capital after day-long air battles in which it was estimated 550 enemy planes were driven off with loss of forty-five, while the Royal Air Force lost nineteen fighters. Ten pilots, however, bailed out safely.

SOME FAMILIES EVACUATED

Some families were evacuated from one London area district when bombs fell on houses and, in the road. The people were accommodated in a school prepared months ago for just such an emergency. It was estimated that about sixty persons spent the night there. About thirty families were believed rendered homeless as a result of fires caused by the incendiary bombs in this area.

Many lost all they possessed in the fire—a number fleeing their dwellings and leaving their weekly pay envelopes behind.

Early today search was still being conducted in debris for bodies in another London area where several houses were demolished.

GLIDES DOWN AT TARGET

One plane took Londoners by surprise, gliding in silently and dropping a cluster of incendiary bombs. A nearby railroad apparently was the objective, but trains ran on without interruption.

At one point a bomb burst a water main and the whole pavement rose, floating on the surging current.

Around the corner an all-night coffee stall quietly did big business throughout the raid.

At 1:01 a.m. today shriek of the "all clear" ended the sixth raid since Friday morning. This alarm lasted an hour and twenty-eight minutes.

Three scream bombs were dropped just before the fifth raid ended—and a whistling bomb heralded the presence of the enemy in the sixth alarm.

Anti-aircraft guns blazed away at the Germans.

SAFE IN SHELTER
German bombers struck at one of the London districts thus far untouched by the raiders, dropping high explosive and incendiary bombs. One bomb exploded near the entrance of an underground public shelter but none of the several hundred occupants was injured.

Fires from Nazi incendiary bombs still burned brightly in the London area when the raiders returned at 11:33 p.m. last night, just twenty-two minutes after the fifth in the day's succession of "all clear."

In the fifth attack showers of light and fire were loosed. It was a new bombing technique: A raider would drop a triple flare of three brilliant white lights strung together. While it was descending, the plane would make off to avoid the searchlights and then, when the flare was low enough to illuminate the target, would dive back over and release its bombs.

At times, the tin hats of midtown rooftop aircraft "spotters" could be seen for blocks away, in the brilliant light of falling parachute flares.

SHELLS PROVE EFFECTIVE
In the period between August 30 and September 5, the Air Ministry said 371 Nazi raiders were downed. Sixty-one were brought down by anti-aircraft fire.

During part of the morning, British fighting craft shot down Germans at the rate of one every two minutes in the day's heaviest attack.

In that period, the planes came in masses of 200 and 300; in waves of twenty and thirty.

The R.A.F. went out to meet them in Kent and Essex and over the coast, and drove them off.

In a battle in the southeast, the defenders shot at least thirty-four raiders out of the sky and believed they destroyed several others.

Homes were smashed in London's suburbs—in one outlying section, bombs knocked over forty homes in a row—and damage was acknowledged to some factory and railroad property. There were some fatalities.

The day was fine and hot, and the raiders and defenders, high in the blue, trailed white smoke for the millions to see.

SPIRITS REMAIN HIGH
In both slums and prosperous areas, the bombs fell before and after dawn. Sirens and a gas main were hit, railway communications temporarily dislocated, and a shelter containing 1,000 persons torn and jarred. But the casualties were comparatively few; spirits high.

Again the raiders used the broad pathway of the Thames, reckless of the coast.

Their numbers were impressive. This evening, for instance, more than 200 roared in from the sea. The British fighters met them head-on over the Thames Estuary, and one witness said he counted five shot down in a furious melee that seemed to last only a few seconds.

As for the airports, their principal targets—an independent survey indicated that none has yet been damaged to the extent that it could not be used again within a few hours.

HOSPITAL HIT BY BOMBS
The south of England bore the brunt. In one Kentish town, part of a hospital was demolished, but doctors and nurses worked by flashlight to save patients, and one nurse clad in a nightdress, crawled over debris to treat injured men and women.

This evening, two Nazi machines thundered out of the West at 500 feet to attack another southeastern town with blazing guns, clearing the streets with machine-gun bullets.

"It was like hell let loose," said a townsman. "They were like two madmen."

Ground defenses drove them off at last.

Permanent Defence Board Will Study Western Problems

Among Other Aspects, Possibility of Completing Alaska Highway to Receive Attention of Canadian and United States Experts

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (C)—The West Coast definitely falls within the orbit of studies being made by the permanent defence board of Canada and the United States, Capt. W. L. Murray, deputy chief of naval staff and senior military expert of the board's Canadian section, said today.

At Navy Minister Macdonald's weekly press conference, Capt. Murray said the defence board was considering all aspects of defence and the "West Coast is not being forgotten."

Mr. Macdonald's report was one of steady progress and accomplishment on the part of the Royal Canadian Navy. He let it be known that the last and mightiest convoy of troops, in which Canadian guard vessels had a part, had safely delivered this week to England 15,000 troops, together with thirty-three Canadian nurses and fourteen naval cadets. In transporting troops across the broad Atlantic, Canada has not lost a man nor a gun.

MAY MAN SHIPS

The Canadian Navy, the minister said, was delighted with the British acquisition of fifty destroyers from the United States and was doing all in its power to facilitate delivery. Canada was prepared to man some of these ships, but he did not say whether or not this would be done.

Studies of the permanent defence board, Capt. Murray intimated, would include the possibility of completing the long-contemplated Alaska highway from Vancouver to Juneau. He was not prepared to discuss the technical aspects of this matter as to its feasibility for use as a military road.

Neither the minister nor Capt. Murray considered it proper to discuss the question of the establishment of an American naval base on the West Coast, moved in Washington as of value in the protection of Alaska.

Upon the basis of Mr. Macdonald's figure of 15,000 troops recently landed in the United Kingdom and reports in the British press of 35,000 Canadians in that country, together with a statement made by Defence Minister Halton in the House of Commons in July that the Government proposed to maintain a corps of two divisions there, the assumption was that for the present the task of the navy in escorting contingents overseas might be considered complete.

NO STATEMENT

No statement was forthcoming either from Mr. Macdonald or the Defence Department on this matter. Mr. Macdonald announced three new appointments: Commander W. B. Greer, former commanding officer of the destroyer Fraser, sunk in a collision while in action, to be commander-in-charge at Halifax; Commander L. J. M. Gauvreau to be senior officer at Gaspe, and Engineer Captain George Leslie Stephens to be naval superintendent at Esquimaut, as well as chief engineer at the dockyards, his present post.

Commander Greer was born in Vancouver in 1900, educated there and in the Royal Canadian Naval College at Halifax. Because of the first Great War he graduated after a short course in 1916 and served on various ships of the Royal Navy. Later he commanded H.M.C.S. Champlain and afterwards the Fraser.

Commander Gauvreau was born in Stanfield, Que., in 1895. He graduated from the Royal Naval College, serving on H.M.S. Essex. During the first Great War he took part in the capture of the German S.S. Bethonia.

Capt. Stephens was born in 1899 at Plympton, Devon, England. He began his naval career as an artificer in the engine room of H.M.C.S. Niobe. In 1913 he distinguished himself by becoming the first in the Canadian navy service to pass an examination leading to the rank of engine room warrant officer. In 1915 he received a message of congratulation from the Admiralty "for zeal and ability."

First Time Most Of Navy Men Had Been Under Fire

CHARLOTTETOWN, Sept. 6 (C)—Lieut. H. H. Hyndman, of the Royal Navy, writes his grandmother here, Mrs. C. A. Hyndman, that he was at Oran when the British squadron destroyed French men-of-war after the collapse of the French armistice.

Lieut. Hyndman writes: "It was the first time most of us had been under shellfire and it was as you might expect, a weird and rather unpleasant experience—especially since we were being fired upon by our former allies. Nevertheless, we had to destroy the French fleet and we did it."

He is a native of Edmonton and was in military college at Kingston, Ont., when war broke out. He joined the Royal Navy a year ago.

New "Mosquito" Has Truly Lethal Bite

As swift and deadly as it is comparatively tiny, one of Uncle Sam's new "mosquito boats" flashes along the waters of the Potomac River at Washington as it was put through its paces before high-ranking naval officers. Torpedo boats such as this one are participating in the Battle of Britain, clashes between German and British "mosquito fleets" having been reported.

The other delegates will leave on Monday.

Next Monday the Victoria representatives will meet those of the surrounding municipalities, when resolutions that will be brought before the convention will be discussed.

I'LL WAIT FOR YOU

CHAPTER XVII
Norman had not overplayed Benson's cooking but Carol had little appetite and did not trust her hands. Edwina curled up in a chair and lit a cigarette and Norman, in command of himself and the situation, spoke easily of casual things.

Did Edwina, sensitive and alert, sense the tension, Carol wondered. Carol did not look at Norman though she knew that she would never get enough of looking at him in the little time that was left. A chance acquaintance, a charming companion, and now a lover. A day that had begun as hundreds of days had begun was a day different from all others. As if lightning had struck, killing all that was old and bringing not only a new day but a new life. Explain it, reason with it, analyze it? You couldn't. Love was. Love was as uncertain as the wind and the tides. And love had an ironic sense of humor. She thought. He doesn't know. He doesn't know. I'll tell him. I must tell him.

"I hope we're still going to New York," Edwina said. She looked at Carol. "Norman and I are motoring up in two weeks. I suppose I'll do the driving now. He has business there and I can always think of some reason to go to New York." "My wrist should be okay in two weeks. I wouldn't trust you to do the driving, Edwina. We'd land either in the house or in the ditch. Doesn't this desert tempt you?"

"Food never tempts me, darling. I value what nature was kind enough to give me. I hate to hurry you, Carol, but I've a date with Amy Durfee and she has so little time to herself I hate to keep her waiting. I'll probably catch her when I turn up in bare legs. About my typing Norman, I'll come over tomorrow and help you." "Thanks. It will help. I'm bad enough with two hands."

Carol had come reluctantly and now she was leaving with a feeling of sadness, as if this were the most difficult parting she had ever known. Norman walked between her and Edwina to the car and stood a moment, tall and splendid-looking against the sun, as Edwina started the motor.

It was only for an instant that his eyes and Carol's met with all the tender things they felt they could not say and yet they felt sure of them that it was as if she had heard them and said them. "You kissed me into loving you, Norman. While a little bird was frisking in his bath, you changed my world and my heart. It may be a world slightly gone mad but people are still falling in love and getting married and building houses and having babies in spite of it—because youth has faith and love is still its chief desire and need. I love you and I must tell Alan. That's all I know now. Perhaps I shouldn't feel happy or feel that I look loved and lovable."

When they were on the open road, Edwina said, "I'll have to stop at home for a second. I forgot to tell Mary about guests for dinner."

Presently the car passed between two stone pillars and climbed upward, sloping in the driveway before the great white house that was like a child's dream of a castle out of a fairy tale. The old gardeners working among the flowers straightened back as Edwina hurried past him, calling out, "It's too hot for that now, Sam. Do it when it's cooler."

Times, like her past and the girl she had been, escaped Carol. She had never felt like this with Alan and she knew an overwhelming awakening that all she had felt for him was tenderness and appreciation and admiration, not this singular feeling that was like a warm current, demanding and insatiable. Her mind seemed emptied of everything except, Norman as she thought.

Old-Time Railway Executive Passes In Eastern Home

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—Loren F. Loree, eighty-two, former president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, and executive of various other large corporations, died today at his West Orange, N.J., home.

Loree, after holding important posts on many leading railroads retired about two years ago. Railroad men considered him one of the last of the old school of executives, who came up through the pioneer period of railroading.

He was known also for general unsuccessful attempts to merge a group of Eastern lines into a new trunk line system. One of his latest coups in Wall Street was the purchase through the Delaware & Hudson of one of the largest minority interests in the New York Central.

Number of Ships Armed in Canada Since War Began

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (C)—Defensive armament has been fitted to sixty-eight merchant vessels in Canada since the outbreak of war, it was announced today by naval headquarters.

The department makes a sharp distinction between this type of armament and that placed upon merchant vessels which are transformed into auxiliary cruisers to work with the navy.

Cleveland Drops Fifth Successive Tussle to Tigers

Indians Continue Tailspin in American League—Detroit Wins to Creep Within Game of Leaders—Yankees Lose to Senators—Dodgers Take Two From Phils to Slice Lead

By The Canadian Press
Brooklyn Dodgers crept up a full game on the first place Cincinnati Reds yesterday—but there's still a full seven games separating the top two teams in the National League. While the Reds were idle, the Dodgers whipped the Phils twice today, 3-0 and 14-3.

Clyde Sponner making his forty-ninth appearance of the season for the Cardinals seemed overworked as he pitched in his third consecutive National League baseball game. He gave up four runs in the first two innings but after that shut out Chicago Cubs as his teammates came back for a 6-4 victory.

Fold-up of Cleveland Indians turned into a panic as Detroit Tigers completed their massacre of the American League's best pitching staff with a 10-5 victory that extended the Tribe's losing streak to five straight games.

The hot breath of the Tigers was blowing on the backs of the Indians' necks tonight, with Detroit riding in second place, a single game behind the leading Clevelanders. Louie "Buck" Newsom pitched one of his poorer games of the season for his eighteenth victory and a Tiger sweep of the three-game series, but the Tigers' attack was strong enough to offset his shortcomings.

YANKS GO UNDER
New York Yankees lost second place in the close American League pennant race when young Ken Chase, Washington left-hander, stopped the world champions, 3-1, while Detroit's Tigers blasted the league-leading Cleveland Indians 10-5.

Though the Yanks' pennant drive was stalled, they lost no ground to the league leaders. They are two full games back of the Indians and one back of the second-place Tigers. Gee Walker played the leading offensive role for the winners, his two homers—one in the first inning and the other in the sixth—being sufficient for the victory. Johnny Rigney pitched Chicago White Sox to a four-hit, 6-3 American League victory over St. Louis Browns.

NANAIMO, Sept. 6 (P).—Nanaimo Indians last year's city box lacrosse champions, last night won the right to meet Powell River in the provincial senior "B" semi-finals by taking a sudden-death game from Fletchers, 2-14.

Powell River will play the Indians in a sudden-death game here Saturday and the winner will meet Victoria in a two-game, total-goal series, starting September 11 at Victoria.

Last night's game was Fletchers' fourth hard contest in seven days, and the dark-skinned braves, fresh from ten days of rest and practice, were too much for them. Fletchers were outscored in every period and were trailing, 10-4 at the half. Their six-goal closing drive in the final period was eclipsed by the Indians' seven markers.

The scorers for Indians included Ray Thomas, 6; Ross Ingram, 5; Doug White, 4; Don White, 4; Charlie Williams, 1; and Willie White, 1. Fletchers: Beaver Thompson, 5; Garland, 3; Jimmy Perry, 2; Angie Dola, 2; Black, 1; and Archie Johnstone, 1.

BAKERYMEN BEAT DRUGGISTS AGAIN
Register 24-16 Victory in Fourth Game of Play-Offs for City Junior Boxla Laurels

Getting away to an early lead and holding the upper hand throughout, Bakerymen beat Druggists last night in the fourth game of the city junior championship series.

Druggists, coached by Art Chapman, created something of a surprise in local boxla circles by taking the measure of the bakerymen in the first two matches. Bakerymen checked in with their first play-off victory Thursday evening, and last night made it two straight and evened-up the series at two games each. Date for the fifth and deciding fixture will be announced shortly by the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse League.

In the preliminary fixture Times Terriers defeated the Bluebirds, 20-8.

Last night's fixtures wound up action on the local boxla front until Monday, September 16. On that date Jokers and James Bay, senior squads, will open their best-of-five series for the city championship. Bays won the title last year.

LIGHT-HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION PUNCHES OUT DECISIVE WIN

Pittsburgh Belter Smacks Down Ranking Heavyweight With Flurry of Lefthands—Conn Credited With Eight Rounds—Shot at Champion Joe Louis Is Now Waiting the Winner

By SID FIEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Billy Conn threw enough left hands tonight to win a baseball double-header, and with them he knocked out Bob Pastor to skyrocket right to the front of the heavyweight picture.

For twelve full rounds he wore down the New York heavyweight with an assortment of left hooks, both high and low, to the body. In the thirteenth, with Bob dog-tired from trying to get out of the way of these swarms, Billy flattened him for the full ten count.

Pastor went down for the third and final time from a left-right-left to the mid-section, and he lay on the floor for a full minute.

Thus did the Pittsburgh champion, who, at 174 pounds tonight, was still under the light-heavyweight limit, make good his campaign to get at the Brown Bomber.

The winner of tonight's tussle has been promised a shot at the heavyweight crown by Mike Jacobs, and there was no question about who was the winner here.

WELL-BEATEN MAN
Pastor, scaling 180-3-4, was well beaten, although there's no telling how much some of the "abdicating" light-heavyweight champions' jaw punches took out of him. Three times Billy was warned for hitting below the belt, and two rounds were taken away from him for this violation. One of these—the twelfth—he lost after knocking Bob clean through the ropes for a count of nine.

On The Associated Press score card Conn took eight of the twelve rounds. Of Pastor's four, he was awarded the eighth and twelfth for Billy's "submarine" ball pitching below the belt. But the fight itself was a lot closer than that and time after time it had the crowd, which contributed a gross gate of $49,415, roaring.

At the finish, however, were mingled with cheers, either for Conn's low punching or Pastor's knockout from body blows, but there was no arguing against the decisiveness of Conn's triumph.

However, it was disclosed later that all Pastor had to do was get up before the "ten" sounded over him, and he not only would not have been knocked out, but would actually have won the thirteenth round. Climbing out of the ring, Referee Cavanaugh said the final left to the body was "dangerously close" to foul territory.

CLAIM FOUL BLOW
As a result, Jimmy Johnston, Pastor's manager, claimed that his

Soldier Fighters Signed for Bout Here on Sept. 14

INTER-UNIT rivalry for Victoria's war service stamp boxing show at the Sports Centre, Saturday, September 14, was assured here yesterday with the signing of Gunner Jimmy St. Clair, 31st Battery, R.C.A., and Private Clarence Pheasant, Canadian Mounted Regiment, for one of the six-round bouts. Ted Moore, former Mainland fight impresario, here completing arrangements for the all-star fist-clipping programme, announced the signing of the soldiers. St. Clair is a former Vancouver boxer and tips the scales at 180 pounds. Pheasant, with more than fifty scraps under his belt, hails from the Prairies, and is reputed to be quite a boxer.

Chuck Nickson, Vancouver, has been booked for the ten-round main event, and will swap punches with an opponent yet to be named. Promoter Moore has the choice of three good boys for Nickson, and expects to choose with one of them today. Present plans call for between thirty-six and forty rounds of mitt slinging, with members of His Majesty's services sharing billing with civilian fighters. First bout is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock.

Racing Meet Opens This Afternoon at The Willows Track

Curtain Goes Up On Fourteen Days of Galloping At Popular Local Strip—Saanich Handicap at One Mile Is Feature of Opening Day Card—First Race Is Set for 1:45 o'Clock

Cheers of excited punters and the sound of thundering hoofs will echo today at the Willows track, signalling the opening of Victoria's 1940 racing season. Last-minute details were completed yesterday, and general Sam Randall, president of the association, reports everything is in readiness for what promises to be one of the most successful meetings in many seasons of galloping on Victoria tracks.

Racing officials have lined up an exceptionally attractive programme to start the fourteen days of galloping with the Saanich Handicap at one mile as the feature event. Six other flat races and a hurdles event in the infield will round out the card. First post time is 1:45 o'clock.

ONE-TWO BETTING
Sam Randall made it known yesterday that there will be one-two betting at the Willows. The daily double will be on the second and third races, with one-two betting on the fifth and seventh events. One of the latter will be eliminated when the hurdles are held on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Dr. W. J. McKeon, presiding judge, Earl Lewis and Captain S. Jones, stewards, arrived yesterday from the mainland and went to work immediately on a few final items. Popular with owners and the racing public, these men have been officiating at Victoria tracks for many years.

Clay Puett, ace starter, who has worked on all the larger Canadian and American tracks, will be shouldered with the responsibility of getting the horses away from the gate. Puett has improved his starting equipment, which he claims will provide more protection for horses in the stalls and even better starts than does his present gate.

The Willows racing plant has been all "dressed up" for the opening. The large grandstand has been repaired, the track has been gone over and a new judges' stand has been built on the roof of the grandstand.

TODAY'S CARD
Today's programme includes four sprints and three distance events. Overnight entries show good fields for all events and with many speed stars stabled at the Willows, followers of the "Sport of Kings" are looking forward to a bang-up opening day.

Entered in the Saanich Handicap, feature event on the card, are some smart handicappers, such as Turley, Simtee, Maid of Broxa, Sahara—Chief, Green Tea, Lee Somers, Contributor, York Lomond and Herrest. The distance is one mile.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If September 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

This may be a day when many diversified interests will keep you stepping lively. It might be well for you to take the time to partake of the proper amount of nourishment, for it will be through the lack of it that much physical discomfort is likely to be experienced. In any business transaction today do not be too busy to analyze every detail, for it is going to be through slipshod methods many mistakes will be made. It might be in your power to give someone a gentle reminder today that may keep them from forgetting to do a thoughtful deed conducive to giving happiness to a person that deserves it. Helpful suggestions are also in order if harmonious conditions are to prevail. Unreasonable demands on anyone's time will prove to be a mistake of judgment today, so think twice before making them. Married and engaged couples, and those laying claim to someone's heart and hand, should endeavor to be content with the things that they have at their command and not grumble over those that they know are not for the time being obtainable. If a woman, and September 7 is her birthday, if you would know happiness never let your personal ambition have your first consideration and your love interests your second. It will be much better for you to be sentimental than to be cold and indifferent. Friendships ought to mean a great deal to you, so never sacrifice them to curry favor with anyone. You can look forward to many personal triumphs if you engage enthusiastically in the work of a journalist, teacher, missionary, reformer, trained nurse, dietician, broker, actress, artist, musician, fiction writer, or business operator. Your marriage ought to mean more to you than anything else, for through it there is every possibility of your most cherished hopes being realized. The child born on September 7 can, with help, develop a fondness for reading, writing and an interest in the development of some talent. The results of early training is often reflected in the future successes of children born on this date, and parents will do well to remember this. If a man and September 7 is your natal day, whatever you get will probably be the result of your own hard work, and through your ability to do whatever you make up your mind to accomplish. You ought to do exceptionally well as an electrician, horticulturist, busness manager, agriculturist, engineer, actor, author, news reporter, salesman, lawyer, doctor, clergyman, or in an activity requiring real executive ability. Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Chal Body Abors JAMES W. BARTON, M.D. SALT FREE DIET IN DIARRHOEA While the majority of people are more, or less, constipated, there is a large number that have a persistent diarrhoea. In some of these cases the emotion cause an irritation of the lower bowel and it is in a continuous state of slight or severe inflammation. In the slight cases there is a little mucus and it is called mucous colitis (colon is name of the large intestine). In the severe cases it is called ulcerative colitis because the surface lining of intestine is ulcerated. The treatment for colitis is trying to teach the patient to acquire calmness of spirit and avoid rough foods. However, there are some cases of diarrhoea not due to emotional disturbances. Dr. H. Salomon, Buenos Aires, in The Swiss Medical Journal states that the diet treatment in these cases is avoiding foods containing salt. The following foods low in table salt are sweetened white bread and cakes, rice, groats, white bread and cakes, rice, groats, prepared with water or a little milk and sugar. Eggs in every form, fruits, stewed fruits, nuts, almonds, puddings, tart, sweets, ice cream, fruit juices. The reason that salt in the food causes diarrhoea is that salt draws water from the tissues and hence the water in the bowel become too liquid. A pure fruit diet, like the apple, banana, or strawberry cure, also acts firstly because it is free from salt. The skin, containing a large amount of salt, is the principal place for salt storage. Dr. Salomon advises that table salt should not be given by mouth. This cutting down on foods rich in salt such as crackers, eggs, all corned, pickled or salted foods is, then, good advice for those with persistent diarrhoea to follow. However, table salt is helpful for normal individuals because the body needs a large amount of water and table salt holds seventy times its weight of water in the tissues. One other group that should avoid or cut down on table salt and salt foods are those who are overweight. Every pound of excess fat in the body holds three and a half pounds of water, so that fat individuals, in addition to this excess water in their fat tissue, can also hold excess water in other tissues if they eat too much salty food.
